Man Who Roosevelt Supported Now Declares In Favor of President Taft

Stimson Will Not Support the Former President—Says Taft Stands for All Progressive Ideas.

Secretary of War Stimson in announcing his decision as between Taft and Roosevelt said: "I am for the renomination of President Taft. I am now and always have been a progressive. "Mr. Taft has faithfully carried out the progressive faith. "I entered public life under the inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt. "I am a firm believer in his great national policies. "I now remain his sincere friend. "But I believe those who are forcing him, against his original intention, into the arena against Mr. Taft are jeopardizing instead of helping real progress. "Mr. Taft has faithfully carried out his pledges of four years ago. "The recall of judges would bring the courts down into the welter of politics."

CHICAGO, March 7.—Henry L. Stimson of New York, secretary of war, and the Roosevelt candidate for governor of New York in 1910, last night declared that, while he remained the "sincere friend" of Mr. Roosevelt, he could not support him for the presidential nomination. Mr. Stimson entered President Taft's cabinet last year, after consultation with Mr. Roosevelt and with the distinct understanding that he would be bound in no way to take part in the presidential nomination. In a speech before the Taft club of Illinois last night, he declared his belief that President Taft's administration represented the highest expression of republican progressive policy. "I am here to speak for the renomination of President Taft," said Mr. Stimson. "I am now and always have been a progressive. "I am for Mr. Taft because I believe he has faithfully carried out the progressive faith of the republican party; that his administration stands for orderly, permanent progress in our national government; and that to refuse him the nomination on the assertions that have been made against him would be a blow to that progress and would put a premium upon hasty and unfounded criticism. "I entered into public life under the inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt. I am a firm believer in the great national policies for which he has fought; and I now remain his sincere friend. But I believe those who are forcing him, contrary to his original intention, into the arena against Mr. Taft, are jeopardizing instead of helping the real cause of progress in the nation. "The introduction of such a contest at this time, dragging in, as it necessarily will, new and personal issues which are quite foreign to the great progressive policies for which the republican party stands, cannot fail to weaken whichever candidate is eventually nominated in June. If, as a result, that candidate is defeated in November, the government may be thrown into the hands of truly reactionary parties for years to come. "Mr. Stimson said that President Taft had devoted himself unceasingly to the carrying out of constructive work along progressive lines. The administration was begun, he said, upon a plan that had "the thorough approval and deliberate endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt;" and to that plan President Taft had adhered rigidly.

"Is it fair now to criticize him?" asked Mr. Stimson, "because in faithfully carrying out this pledge of four years ago, in performing this vitally useful though inconspicuous work, he has not dominated the public attention with dramatic display. "President Taft pledged himself," said Mr. Stimson, "to a progressive development of the work that President Roosevelt had inaugurated, and the completion and perfection of the machinery by which the moral standards set by President Roosevelt may be maintained. "To this work Mr. Taft has devoted himself," said Mr. Stimson. "He thus deliberately renounced more striking methods of reform, and set himself to the undramatic and inconspicuous public service which leaves out all thought of a man's own aggrandizement. "He has repeatedly, for example, urged upon congress to place upon the classified civil service virtually all of the presidential offices; a measure which would at one blow strike out most of the enormous political power of the president. "The results of this deliberate (Continued on Page Three.)

ANOTHER NEVADA PIONEER CROSSES THE GREAT DIVIDE

This morning at 12:30 o'clock, at the county hospital, George Turin, a resident of Nevada for the past 50 years, solved the great mystery, death relieving his body from pain. The deceased had resided in this state for a half of a century. He had for forty years prior to his ailment of Bright's disease, followed mining and the life of a prospector, and for the past 30 years had resided in and about Tybo, and was general known by his acquaintances as "Old Tybo." He had reached the grand old age of 87 years. The old pioneer was known for his kindness of heart and his charitable acts during his life upon the desert. The aged prospector's cabin was a home of welcome to all who might pass its door; the latch string was always on the outside. There are many in the state today who will mourn his demise and speak kind words of the old prospector. He died as he lived—alone—there was no loving relative to close his eyes in death and say a prayer as his soul returned to his Maker. At one time he was possessed of some wealth, but it had gradually dwindled away, and the old pioneer died penniless. Tomorrow he will be buried by the county unless the charitably inclined say otherwise. May the old pioneer and prospector enter the portals of heaven, where all is happiness and bliss. Peace to his clay.

GEO. BECKLEY IMPROVING.

Good news continues to arrive from the sick chamber of George Beckley at the Sisters' hospital in Sacramento, each message conveying an improvement in his condition. Dr. McLeod returned this morning from Sacramento and reports that George Beckley will recover from his attack of pneumonia.

D Aspland, of the T. & T. railroad, came over from Goldfield today on business.

WHEN ELECTRIC POWER IS INSTALLED OPERATIONS WILL START ON BLUE BULL AND BOOTH

The Goldfield Tribune of yesterday prints the following: Following the announcement of yesterday, that development work will be started on the Booth and Blue Bull properties, Mr. George Wingfield was asked by a Tribune reporter how soon this work would be begun. "Right away. Just as soon as we can get the juice," he replied.

The plans, as at present outlined, contemplate the sinking of deep shafts on both the properties and the thorough exploration of the ground at great depth. It is probable that some of the old shafts will be enlarged and further sunk, thus saving a considerable expense which would be entailed in starting new shafts.

Equipment for the work is ready at hand and there will be little delay in installing hoisting machinery with which to carry on the work on a liberal scale. This work, even from its inception, will give employment to a number of men and this number will be largely increased as the work progresses, thus carrying to fruition the task promised by Mr. Wingfield, given some months ago, that he would engage in the exploration and development of other properties in the district and make a serious effort to develop other producing mines here.

Electric power lines are to be extended to the two properties without delay and both will be operated in a manner calculated to demonstrate their value and possibilities for production. Deep mining has become the slogan of operators in the district and there will be no

J. L. CALLISON OF CANDELARIA DIES IN OAKLAND

The news of the sudden demise of J. L. "Doc" Callison, which occurred in Oakland on the 4th inst. has been received in this city. There were fewer men better known to the old residents of southern Nevada than "Doc" Callison. He went to Candelaria and Columbus about 1873 and identified himself with mining development from infancy until he died. He made several fortunes out of his mining properties and had recently accumulated a goodly sum from a sale of a mine. He served one term as county commissioner of Esmeralda county, representing the Candelaria district, in the years '86-'88. The deceased was a man esteemed by his large number of friends; his word was a gilt-edge bond. He leaves to mourn his death a wife and three grown sons. The news of his death will cause sorrow to many an old-time acquaintance and friend. Of all the pioneers of Candelaria and Columbus, both great bullion producers of the early days, not over twenty-five are alive today.

WOMAN MURDERER MUST DIE IN CHAIR

PLYMOUTH, Mass., March 7.—For the first time in the history of criminal procedure a Massachusetts woman was yesterday sentenced to death in the electric chair.

Mrs. Lena Casimano, of Hull, who, with Enrico Mascioli, was convicted of murdering the woman's husband, is to die in the chair during the week beginning June 2. Mascioli will also die at the same time.

Born in Nevada City, Nevada county, California, March 1, 1912, to the wife of B. I. Hoxie, a daughter.

ROOSEVELT INSINUATES PRESIDENT IS DISHONEST

Reiterates His Strenuous Fight for Nomination Is a Sacrifice for the Public—Stimson Got His Rise From Roosevelt.

MINEOLA, N. Y., March 7.—Secretary Stimson's speech in Chicago last night, supporting President Taft for the republican nomination, brought from Mr. Roosevelt a tart reply.

"We stand for direct presidential preferential primaries everywhere in Massachusetts, in Illinois, in New York (for in New York the present primary law, passed by the machines of the two parties is expressly designed to prevent either party from escaping the control of the professional politicians and from falling under the control of the people.) If our opponents wish the people to have their say, let them support real primary bills.

"If in open primaries, without coercion or fraud, without pressure brought by the use of patronage or by the promise or by the withholding of patronage, the plain people of the republican party declare that they do not wish me to be nominated, then most certainly I do not wish the nomination; if they declare that they do wish me, not in my interest, but in the interest of the people as a whole, then, as I have already said, I will accept and will strive to serve the people with all of whatever powers I possess.

"In regard to Mr. Stimson's statement that against my original intention I am being forced by certain persons into the arena this year, I need merely say," declared Colonel Roosevelt, "that the statement is correct only in the sense that it would be correct to make the same statement as to my advocacy of Mr. Stimson for governor in 1910. In that contest, as in this, I was exceedingly reluctant to be drawn into the contest. In that contest, as in this, I acted only from a sense of duty to the people as a whole, and in that contest I was assailed with precisely the same arguments by the great majority of those who are now assailing me."

The colonel continues: "If I had considered only my own personal interests and personal preference, I should, of course, have kept out of the 1910 campaign, have let the machine remain in control at Saratoga and seen the state go democratic by 300,000 majority, as under those circumstances it certainly would have gone. "I went in because I conscientiously felt that it was my duty to take my part in the fight for honest government for genuine self-government by the people, without regard to consequences to myself, and I am in this fight on precisely the same basis and for practically the same reasons.

"Let me add, in view of the questions of certain friends, that neither Mr. Stimson nor any other man whom I have supported owes me any gratitude for doing so; I support a man, not to get his gratitude, but because I believe he will render good service to the people; and I assume nothing from any man in return except that he render such service to the people, and I judge him accordingly.

"As to the question concerning 'Who is forcing me into the arena,' the answer is easy.

"Which side is making the demand for open primaries and which side is stifling this demand wherever possible, refusing to accede to it save under compulsion and trusting to the use of patronage, to such methods as those tried in the recent Kansas City congressional convention, and to those very machine leaders who have turned a complete somersault as regards the president during the last four years?

"These leaders are managing the campaign against me; and if they were deliberately trying to wreck the republican party they would follow precisely the tactics they have been following—tactics which make it seem that they would rather see the republican party defeated than see it restored to what it was under Abraham Lincoln, and see it become again the genuine party of the people, the party that stands for real popular rule, and for the highest ideals of social and industrial justice, to be achieved through popular rule."

IN CALIFORNIA JAILS ARE FILLED WITH I. W. W.'S.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 7.—The jails of two southern California counties have been filled by prisoners for violating the local street-speaking ordinance. Word received from Santa Ana that the overflow sent from here had already filled the jail capacity. Yesterday thirty prisoners were sent to the Riverside county jail. Arrests are being made nightly, due to the influence of I. W. W. members from the north.

CAUSE OF SLUMP IN MAC'NAMARA STOCK EXPLAINED

For the past ten days speculation has been rife as to the cause of the slump in MacNamara stock. The following extract from the San Francisco Journal of Commerce of the 4th inst., probably explains the situation truthfully:

"On the exchange today trading was broad and active in both the groups and punctuated at times with heavy selling on the part of the professionals. Especially was this so in the case of MacNamara, where a coterie had accumulated a big block of stock around 11 cents to dump at the expected increased values when the new mill should be completed. This sharp cut in price from 28 to 18 cents in no way affects the real value of the property. The company owes a small bunch of bills aside from the round $45,000 which is due on the construction and equipment of the mill. The monthly clean-ups have amounted to some $10,000 and these are increasing from month to month as the mill is turned up, so that ready money is at hand every thirty days to meet a large part of these obligations. Within a few months these bills will be wiped off the slate and the company will be in the strongest financial position in its history, backed as it now is with a new 10-stamp

SAN FRANCISCO GRAFT CASES HAVE ENDED

WITHOUT RUFF AS A WITNESS
THERE WAS NOT SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO CONVICT.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Eugene E. Schmitz, former mayor, was acquitted in Judge Lawler's court on the charge of having bribed former Supervisor Wilson in a case growing out of the San Francisco graft prosecutions.

In instructing the jury to return a verdict of not guilty the court said there was not sufficient evidence adduced to convict.

District Attorney Pickert told the court he had presented all the evidence he had and saw no chance of getting more unless Abraham Ruef, who was brought from San Quentin prison to testify, took the stand. Counsel for Ruef said their client stood on the constitutional grounds and the court instructed the jury to acquit. Twenty other indictments are pending against Schmitz, but they were dismissed.

The verdict in the Schmitz case practically clears the court calendars of graft cases with which they have been clogged for years. Ruef, when ordered back to his cell in San Quentin only smiled. All men who were co-defendants with him have been freed, and he is the only one convicted.

REVOLUTIONISTS IN MEXICO HAVE NOW COMBINED

OROZCO, SALAZAR AND CAMPA JOINED AND ALL TROOPS ARE TOGETHER.

CAMP OF INSURGENTS, Sauz, Chihuahua, March 7.—The rebel general, Salazar, who arrived yesterday, and Campa, have not committed themselves fully to Orozco, the insurrector commandant of Chihuahua, who is 13 miles to the south. The reason for the distrust is not fully apparent, but on the surface it appears they are not convinced that Orozco's announced desertion to the rebels is not merely a mask to the leader who may still be devoted to Madero.

Yesterday a council of war was held at which it was decided to not approach the outskirts of Chihuahua until the exact terms of Orozco and his men was determined definitely. Both leaders are said to crave the distinction of commanding the northern forces. It is asserted that it is Orozco's ambition, rather than his loyalty to the rebel cause, which is illustrated.

The rebels are in control of the entire state of Chihuahua. Colonel Pancho Villa and his federal soldiers are still in the state but so outnumbered as to be ineffective.
